CHARDONNAY

The Chardonnay grape itself is very neutral, with many of the flavors commonly associated with the grape being derived from such influences as terroir and oak. In cool climates Chardonnay tends to be medium to light body with noticeable acidity and flavors of green plum, apple, and pear. In warmer locations, the flavors become more citrus, peach, and melon, while in very warm locations more fig and tropical fruit notes such as banana and mango come out.

PINOT NOIR

The thin-skins and low levels of acidity lends Pinot to producing mostly lightly colored, medium bodied wines that can often go through aging producing amazing results. When young, wines tend to have red fruit aromas of cherries, raspberries and strawberries. As the wines age, Pinots have the potential to develop vegetal and "barnyard" aromas that can contribute to the complexity of the wine.

CHIANTI

Why is Chianti more written about, drank, and talked about than any other Italian wine in history? What makes Chianti the perfect food wine?

Chianti, a red blend from Tuscany, is the most recognized wine outside of Italy. It is as essential to Italian cuisine as extra virgin olive oil. There are few pleasures as distinct as a tart, spicy, herbaceous Chianti wine next to a plate of sliced prosciutto or pasta al pomodoro.

The Sangiovese that forms the majority of the Chianti blend is a thin-skinned grape, so it makes translucent wines. In the glass, Sangiovese displays a ruby red color with flashes of bright burnt orange – a hue commonly associated with aged wines. Besides Sangiovese, Chianti wines may contain wine grapes like Canaiolo, Colorino, Cabernet Sauvignon and even Merlot.

RED WINE BLENDS & VARIETALS

Cabernet Sauvignon as a Shiraz partner is also popular and some of the greatest Australian wines ever made are a blend of these two varieties. These wines are complex and robust with incredible ageing potential. Often the two varieties are taken from different regions to create extra levels of ripeness and layers of complexity. Cabernet Sauvignon is more often than not blended with one or several other grapes. In Australia, apart from Shiraz, Cabernet Sauvignon's main blending partner is usually Merlot, as it is in Bordeaux, sometime along with lesser amounts of Cabernet Franc, Malbec and Petit Verdot. Each of these blending partners brings something unique to Cabernet-based blends. Merlot adds flesh and middle palate richness, along with plum and violet characters and a silky texture. Cabernet Franc gives an aromatic lift and tight pepper, spice and red berry characters. Malbec gives palate weight, dark fruit flavours and dusty tannins. Petit Verdot adds fragrance and rich dark fruit flavours that stiffen up the middle palate. The winemaker's objective with blending is to make a wine with greater balance, complexity, intensity and length.

| 2006 | Castello Banfi - Poggio Alle MuraBrunello di Montalcino DOCGVarietal - SangioveseThe Colour is an Intense Deep Red, with a complex but immediately captivating, fresh and sweet nose with essences of plum, cherry, blackberry and raspberry jam combined with hints of chocolate, cigar box, vanilla and liquorice.  | Tuscany | Italy | 180 |
| 2007 | Rocca di Castagnoli "Stielle"Varietal - SangioveseSweet dark cherries, flowers, liquorice and herbs come together seamlessly in this rich, textured red. This level of depth and concentration was not at all easy to achieve in 2008. The round, generous finish leaves a lasting impression for its polish, detail and purity  | Tuscany | Italy | 195 |
| 2008 | Marchesi De' Frescobaldi TenutaCastelgiocondo -Brunello Di Montalcino DOCGVarietal - SangioveseBrilliant and lively ruby red colour. The bouquet opens with well-focused hints of fruity fragrances, especially bitter cherry and raspberry. Its complex nose is enriched by spicy notes suggesting white pepper and clove. The palate melds its freshness nicely with the alcohol thanks to minerality and smooth tannins. An appealing finish offers delicate balsam and mint nuances  | Tuscany | Italy | 195 |
| 2012 | Antinori - Tignanello IGTVarietal - Sangiovese, Cabernet Franc &amp;Cabernet SauvignonThe 2012 Tignanello is an intense ruby red in color with purple highlights. The wine is potent and complex on the nose with spicy notes which mingle with aromas of red fruit, smoke, and balsamic sensations; cherries, plums, liquorice, and rosemary are additionally felt. The flavors are mouth-filling and elegant with much volume and an excellent balance in the texture, and the oak is perfectly fused in the spicy and fruity finish and aftertaste | Tuscany | Italy | 239 |

CABERNET SAUVIGNON

Cabernet Sauvignon is known for its dark color, full body and an alcohol content that is over 13.5%. The wine is dry and has a healthy level of tannin. Cabernet Sauvignon has in general tastes of green pepper in the wine, along with tobacco, cassis, and dark fruits such as cherries, along with a hint of vanilla that comes from the wine aging in the oak.

SHIRAZ

Shiraz is one of the darkest red wines on the market. Darker than Cabernet Sauvignon, this wine is so dark that if you were to hold a glass of the wine up to the light, you'd have a very hard time seeing through it. Shiraz is a wine with a large amount of mouth-drying tannins, and it is known to be full-bodied, which means it feels heavy in your mouth; the wine features flavors such as berries, pepper, tobacco, and even smoked meat. While Shiraz is the perfect accompaniment to meat, it goes well with anything, so drink it with any food you enjoy eating.
